Eugene Kaspersky

The Future of Digital Security: The Kaspersky Vision

Abstract - In his presentation "The Future of Digital Security: The Kaspersky Vision", Eugene Kaspersky, CEO and co-founder, Kaspersky Lab, will describe the main factors driving the global cybercrime industry, main challenges and threats faced by the international community and the possible side effects of the swift evolution of digital devices, networks and online services. Eugene Kaspersky will also present his vision of the ways that can help us to solve or at least minimize the cybercrime problem globally.

Biography - Eugene Kaspersky, CEO and co-founder of Kaspersky Lab (one of the world's leading computer security companies) created his first disinfection utility in 1989 after detecting the Cascade virus on his computer. This spurred him to start collecting malicious programs and disinfection modules for them. This exotic collection was to eventually form the foundation of the famous antivirus database in Kaspersky Anti-Virus. In 1991, while working at the KAMI Information Technologies Centre, Eugene and his colleagues developed the AVP antivirus project, which in 1994 won a contest conducted by Hamburg University's test lab demonstrating a higher virus detection rate than the most popular antivirus programs at the time. The AVP antivirus project was to become the prototype for Kaspersky Anti-Virus. Kaspersky Lab was established in 1997 where, up until 2007, Eugene headed the company's antivirus research. In 2007, Eugene was named CEO of Kaspersky Lab. Eugene is a laureate of the State Prize of the Russian Federation, and a member of the Civic Chamber of the Russian Federation. In 2010 Eugene received the CEO of the Year award from SC Magazine Europe.
