Admin Bandit

Nerida Gill was honoured as 2009 WICKed Woman of the Year. She is the creator of Admin Bandit, the only web-based accounting package designed specifically to make keeping the books easy for volunteer treasurers in community groups in Australia.

After winning numerous business awards (including a national iAward), Admin Bandit is in a growth phase as a result of attracting external investment. Customers are engaged in all types of activities across the community sector in most states of Australia (& some overseas).

In a career spanning 31 years, Nerida has worked as a Business Analyst in permanent and contractor, full and part time positions in government and private enterprise. Nerida lives in Canberra with her husband and two teenage sons and has recently taken up mountain biking.
