Time: 5.30pm for canapés
Where: NICTA Seminar Room,
Ground Floor, 7 London Circuit,
Canberra
RSVP: crlevents@nicta.com.au
by Thursday 1st July 2011

Long before the National Broadband Network, Dr Scott Rashleigh founded AOFR. AOFR was the first company in the world to automate the production of optical fibre components. Scott grew AOFR from a staff of one to over 600 in Canberra and several hundred staff in the US and UK.

Scott will talk about the history of AOFR and the issues involved in establishing and building an internationally successful technology company.
